Kid's Day Parade Set Sept. 22

The 19th annual Kid's Day Parade, sponsored by Lemon Grove Kiwanis, is scheduled for September 22.

Parade contestants will assemble at Citronella and Lincoln sts. at 11 a.m. Judging will take place from 11:30 a.m. to noon. Parade chairman, Elmer Ringesen of Skyline Roll-arena, says the parade, which will move out at noon, will go north on Imperial to Broadway, east to Kempf, and south to the Lemon Grove Junior High School east gate. A unit of the Lemon Grove Fire Department and bands from Helix and Mt. Miguel High schools and Lemon Grove Junior High will march.

Trophies will be awarded immediately following the parade; Kiwanis will provide a treat of free ice cream for all children participating.

First, second, and third place trophies will be awarded in eight categories: single costume, under 8 years; single costume, 8-12 years; costume group (2 or 3), under 8 years; costume groups (2 or 3), 8-12 years; costume groups, all classes (4 or more), to 12 years; wheeled vehicles, not bikes — one class — to 12 years; two-wheeled bikes, under 8 years; two-wheeled bikes, 8-12 years.

Judging will be based on the following: originality, 30 points; originality on child's own effort, 10 points; effectiveness, 20 points; effectiveness based on child's efforts, 10 points; cleanliness and neatness, 10 points; and deportment, 20 points.

Women's Detox Open House

The County's new Women's Alcohol Detoxification Center held open house August 31.

Located in the Door of Hope facility at 2799 Health Center dr., the new center can accommodate 17 female patients at one time. Currently, about 80 women are booked each month at crowded County Jail on charges of common drunkenness. Most will be eligible to be brought to the detoxification center by police instead of going to jail.

The facility will also be open to volunteer alcoholics and to those referred to the center by physicians or other agencies.

The new facility is a counterpart of the Men's Alcohol Detoxification Center operated by the County at 1111 Island ave., San Diego. It is a temporary arrangement until separate facilities for women can be completed at the Island ave. center.

Operating under a nine month contract, the facility will have five registered nurses, seven licensed vocational nurses, a counselor, plus administrative help assigned full time. A physician will make routine sick call and be available 24 hours.

The cost per bed is $35 per day and the County will pay not less than $95,500 nor more than $171,990 depending on the number of beds used for the nine-month period.

Drug Store Burglar Jailed For 30 Days

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — An 18-year-old Spring Valley youth, who admitted breaking into a National City drug store, was put on three years' probation Thursday in Superior Court, with the first 30 days of his probation to be spent in county jail.

Steven Patrick Rooney, of 9044 Frederick st., who worked as a super market box boy, was arrested when the drug store burglar alarm sounded. He pleaded guilty to second degree burglary on July 31 and ordered to make restitution to the drug store of $250.

The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

Anxious Reader:

Hurricanes are listed in alphabetical sequence when the hurricane season starts each year. Then they take a feminine given name which starts with that letter of the alphabet to better identify it. The present storm is the fourth. It is listed "D". They call it Delia.

Sorry, buddy, but you're not getting us involved in that line of reasoning. If we agreed that they (hurricanes) are like women because they are uncontrollable, destructive and unpredictable, every woman whose name starts with "D" would be on our case tomorrow.

How 'Cost of Living' Works

Cost of living explanations coming from federal agencies which exert control on what we pay for what we need are not only conflicting — they're unbelievable.

A lucid picture of "what the rascals are doing to us" was sent to us recently by a long-time political pen-pal, State Senator H. L. Richardson of Arcadia.

It takes a lot of confusion out of seeing the problem as it exists. Here's how the Senator puts it:

"If you discovered you had a case of arsenic poisoning and your doctor recommended that you swallow some additional arsenic as a cure, what would you do?"

"You could follow his advice, whereupon all of your problems would soon be over. But more likely, you would start shopping around for a new doctor. It stands to reason that more of the same poison will just make you sicker."

"Today our economy has an upset stomach and it's crumbling. We have overindulged in a rich diet of government-instigated social programs and our economic body is suffering. The stomachache has been with us for a while and unfortunately is getting worse. The economic doctors that we have been listening to have prescribed more governmental social programs as the answer to our economic ills."

"Mr. and Mrs. America, you just haven't been taking enough of the prescribed medicine," they say. "Here, take a larger dose of governmental control. I know it is hard to swallow, but it is good for you."

"Americans have gulped down a lot of this kind of quick-cure tonic over the past years in an attempt to cure our body politic. What is surprising is that we haven't died from it. We have survived because the body was strong. A weaker one would have collapsed by now."

"The new medicine is price controls with their companion, rationing. It won't be long until rationing is proposed as an answer to allocating the scarcities on an equitable basis."

"Rationing and price controls will only create more scarcities and price controls... here's how it works. 'Imagine yourself in an industry that produces goods or services that the public wants... food, gas, transportation, etc.... inflation, governmentally created, is eating you alive. To stay in business, you have to increase the price of your goods, because all of your costs are going up... labor, materials, rent and tax increases all add to your overall costs.'"

"The consumer, resenting higher costs, complains bitterly. If the complaints are loud enough and long enough, they come to the attention of the government, who, in predictable ignorance, coupled with inordinate desire to control, recommends price control of your commodity."

"Now you, the producer, are in a box. You have a price lid placed on you, but little or none placed on labor and your suppliers. You find your profits shrinking and the stockholder complaining. 'Why should I keep my capital, time and energy invested in this money-losing business?' you ask. 'It isn't long before you and others abandon the same businesses for more rewarding lines of endeavor. It is only a matter of time before scarcity appears and some bureaucrat blames free enterprise for the diminishment of these particular goods, then advocates total governmental management as the ultimate answer. If the people acquiesce, Fascism is just around the corner.'"

"Let's not forget what made us the envy of the world and what gave us our economic wealth — the fact that we have been a free people."

Planetarium Lecture Series at Southwestern

The 1973-74 free planetarium dependence of the definition of time upon the stars shall be investigated, along with its changing aspects throughout history. "Talking With The Stars" is the topic for November 1, 8, and 15, which deals with the possibility of existence of other civilizations throughout the galaxy. Discussion of "government project cyclops" composed of a group of scientists who are seeking to talk with the stars.

The Christmas Star lecture will be presented November 29, December 6, and 13 at 7:30 and repeated at 8:30 p.m. due to the public interest in this lecture. By turning back time in the planetarium, some of the astronomical phenomena which could have been identified as the Star of Bethlehem will be investigated. Following the Christmas holidays the lecture "Stonehenge" will be presented January 3, 10 and 31. A lecture on the recent investigation of this ancient grouping of monoliths in England which has revealed that sophisticated astronomical techniques were used in Europe as early as 3000 B.C. The planetarium will be used to show how these discoveries were made.

Ken Clawson, Assistant Planetarium Director, will present the evening lecture series. Each lecture theme will be repeated for three or four weeks consecutively.

"The Solar Environment" will be featured September 20, 27 and October 4. This lecture explores the sun's many influences on life on earth from the birth of the planets to the dangers of space flight and ultimately to the closing fate of the whole solar system.

Beginning October 11, the lecture topic will be "Does Anybody Really Know What Time It Is?", and will be repeated October 18 and 25. The

Four Forestry Workers Die In Line of Duty

Flags in front of the Calif. Division of Forestry stations and those of the Spring Valley Fire Department, for five days last week, were flying at half-mast. The reason — the deaths of four Division of Forestry men, killed in the line of duty.

Mass for Steven Arrollado, 18, of Santee, was held Friday at St. Kierans Catholic Church in El Cajon. He had died following injury in a fire Aug. 28 in San Diego County.

Two other employees were killed Aug. 15, when the helicopter in which they were flying, crashed in Northern Calif. The two were the pilot, Dick Rodgers, of Clovis, Calif.; and Lynn Douglas, 47, a heavy equipment operator, of San Andreas, Calif.

Dan Hime, 21, formerly of San Diego, was killed Aug. 26, when he fell from a cliff in northern Calif. He had been stationed at Las Osos Ecology Center.

There was a report of another airplane crash, but Hamilton Mills, Fire Prevention officer No. 2, who gave information on the deaths of the four men, said the pilot of the last plane "walked away from the crash." The crash reportedly was at Placerville.

Delivery Guaranteed

Post Office Will Now Mail Stamps

Wonder why nobody thought of it before?

Now you can order stamps by mail.

And pay by check, too. That is the idea behind a new program announced by the Post Office Department through local Postmasters, according to Nate Hale, Lemon Grove Postmaster.

Ordering stamps by mail is easy and delivery is guaranteed.

Lettercarriers are carrying a supply of pre-addressed envelopes. They're free. You print your name and address on the envelope in two places and slip your check into it in accordance with a schedule printed thereon. Postage is free.

Your Postmaster will fill your order immediately and speed it back to you, Hale said.

There is a small surcharge which is used to cover protection against loss, Hale said. On an order for 20 eight-cent stamps worth $1.60 for instance, you will pay $1.85. Other stamps and other denominations are in line with that surcharge.

The service was designed primarily for those who cannot get to the Post Office conveniently but anyone may order.

Call your local Postmaster or ask your carrier for the order envelopes.

Youth's Probation Period Extended

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — Six additional months with probation officers is the penalty for Gary Daniel Cox, 22, of 1924 Madera st., Lemon Grove for failure to follow the court's instructions.

On Sept. 15, 1970 he was put on three years' probation with six months in an honor camp after being arrested for possession of restricted drugs. Drugs were found when police stopped him for a missing front license plate.

Cox was released in Nov. 1970 — four months ahead of time — but in June, 1973, a bench warrant was issued for his arrest when he failed to keep in touch with his probation officer. Six months were added to his probationary period which was due to expire Sept. 15.

VLM Annex Plan OK'd

MONEY DRESS — Six-year old Kim Huddleston, of Lemon Grove, dropped by the Lemon Grove Sheriff's Station last week to seek the help of law enforcement personnel in the fight against muscular dystrophy. Steve Perone promptly pinned a dollar on her sleeve. Miss Huddleston, after collecting about $75, turned the money over to the Jerry Lewis Telethon for Muscular Dystrophy. The program, carried over TV-8 locally, netted about $12.5 million this year, a record total.

Council OK's Preliminary Annex Plan

The drive to annex Vista La Mesa and several other smaller areas to the City of La Mesa picked up last week when the La Mesa City Council gave tentative approval to the plan last Tuesday night.

In spite of objections by Councilman Mark Ueslton, the council approved the move, which it hopes will eventually result in the annexation of Vista La Mesa and a strip of property which lies south of the city limits but north of Highway 94.

By approving the preliminary plan, the council sent the matter to the Local Agency Formation Commission, which will rule on whether or not the plan should go ahead.

With LAFCO approval, an election could be held in the areas under consideration.

Proponents of the plan in Vista La Mesa hope to get tighter restrictions on developers, while the city has been favorable to the plan because of increased federal revenue to the city if its population increases. Those who favor the plan argue that it will reduce the tax rate in the area.

Orientation Day Tomorrow For Junior Highs

Traditionally, the junior high schools in the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District set one day aside for the purpose of orienting new junior high school students.

This school year, 1973-74, the junior high schools, with the exception of La Presa Junior High, have set aside Friday as orientation day. La Presa Junior High School is a year-round school.

At the morning orientation, students will be introduced to key personnel and become familiar with their school programs and class schedules. Round-trip bus transportation will be provided from regular bus stops. Students should be at the stops one-half hour before starting time.

Time schedules for September 7 are as follows:

La Mesa Junior High School, 9 a.m.-noon, 7th graders and new 8th graders, 4200 Parks ave., La Mesa, 466-4137.

Parkway Junior High School, 9:11:30 a.m., 7th graders and new 8th graders, 9009 Park Plaza dr., La Mesa, 463-9846.

Spring Valley Junior High School, 9 a.m.-noon, 7th graders, 3900 Conrad dr., Spring Valley, 469-0141.

Five in Race For SV Fire District Board

Five candidates will vie for two seats on the Spring Valley Fire Protection District Board when voters go to the polls in the November 6 election.

Incumbent candidate is Art Schaffer. Incumbent Clifford Pennick, a 10-year veteran of the board, did not file for reelection.

Other candidates are William Bridwell, of 4108 Sherwin pl., Martin Carlsen, of 10512 Madrid way, Bernard Westrup, of 611 Osage dr., and Earl Roland, of 3623 Saddle dr.

The Lemon Grove Fire Protection District race sees two candidates vying for a single seat on the board.

Incumbent is William Wardwell. Challenging is Dennis Moreno.

Trucks Banned From Section of Highway 163

The California Department of Transportation last week installed signs that prohibit trucks rated one-ton and over from using southbound Route 163 between Interstate 8 and Interstate 5 from 7 a.m. to 9 a.m., Monday through Friday.

The truck ban is in accordance with San Diego City Ordinance 11065 approved by both the San Diego City Council and State Department of Transportation.

The California Highway Patrol realizes that people are creatures of habit, and that some drivers may forget and enter into the restricted area. So the CHP has imposed a 30-day period where they will issue warnings to first offenders in lieu of citations.

Signs giving notice to the weight limitation are posted on Route 8, Route 163, and the southbound on-ramps to Route 163 at Robinson and Richmond Streets.

A joint study will be made in six months by the City of San Diego and State Department of Transportation to evaluate the effectiveness and accomplishments of the restriction.

Chemical Corp. Moves

Phoenix Research Corporation has moved its company operations from Edison, New Jersey to a 20,000 square foot building at 8075 Alvarado rd. in La Mesa in a lease transaction handled by Walt Smyk and Jim Hill of Thomas-Fletcher-Nicol Company.

The three-year-old firm, headed by Randall Kelley, will provide new employment for up to 25 people here in the manufacturing of sophisticated chemicals and gases for the electronics industry.

LG Women to Meet

The Lemon Grove Woman's Club will open the season with a covered dish luncheon at 12:30 p.m. at the Club House, 2810 Main st., Sept. 14.

Mrs. Emmett I. Phares, president, said members will give informal talks on their vacations. Hostesses will be Mrs. Glenn Schickelanz, Mrs. D. D. Lairsey and Mrs. A. R. Rettke.

Free, Reduced Price Lunches Offered By High School District

The Grossmont Union High School District announced

that free and reduced price lunches will be available to students unable to pay the full price of a school lunch, under the National School Lunch Programs. Eligibility for the program is determined by a scale relating family size to income.

Children from families whose income is at or below those shown on the scale are eligible for meals free or at a reduced price. Families not meeting these criteria, but with other unusual expenses such as high medical expenses, shelter costs in excess of 30 percent of income, special education expenses due to the mental or physical condition of a child, and disaster or casualty losses are also eligible and are urged to apply.

They may do so by filling in the application forms sent home in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school. The information provided on the application will be confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. Applications may be submitted anytime during the school year.

In certain cases foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a family has such children living with them and wishes to apply for such meals for them, they should contact the school.

In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of his race, sex, color, or national origin.

Under the provisions of the policy the vice-principal, counselors, or school nurse will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the official he may make a request either orally or in writing to the principal of the school for a hearing to appeal the decision. Hearing procedure are outlined in the policy.

A complete copy of the policy is on file in each school and in the Food Service Office of the Grossmont Union High School District where it may be reviewed by any interested party.

The scale:

A family of one, $228 or less gross monthly income for free lunch, $229 to $273 for reduced price lunch.

A family of two, $300 or less free lunch, $301 to $360 reduced price.

A family of three, $372 or less free lunch, $373 to $447, reduced price.

A family of four, $443 or less free lunch, $444 to $532 reduced price.

A family of five, $508 or less free lunch, $509 to $610 reduced price.

A family of six, $574 or less, free lunch, $575 to $688 reduced price.

A family of seven, $633 or less free lunch, $634 to $760 reduced price.

A family of eight, $693 or less free lunch, $694 to $832 reduced price.

For larger families, add $53 for each additional member to the first two figures and $64 to the final figure.

Fine Levied in Drug Sale Case

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — A 25-year-old Spring Valley man was fined $200 and put on three years' probation Tuesday in Superior Court, after pleading guilty to possession of restricted, dangerous drugs.

Emerson Richard Morris, of 9720 Apple st., was arrested on Dec. 13 of last year, when he was involved in the sale of drugs to an undercover officer.

At the time of his arrest, according to a probation report, to Judge William T. Low, Morris was on his way to play Santa Claus at a school.

Mail Bag

Dear Editor,
Thank you so very much for that tremendous full page feature with all those pictures on August 30. John Nicholson did a great job and really had all the data accurate.

May I dare add one more bit of information? Murgatroyd and Cornelius Crow, the two hand puppets pictured, were made by Herta Horst-Forster of Chula Vista, the well-known character doll maker.

Already Kooky has been invited to two more schools as a result of the story. Thank you again!!!!

Zoo, Animal Park To Close Hour Earlier

The San Diego Zoo's and San Diego Wild Animal Park's autumn operating schedules took effect Tuesday, when each institution's gates closed one hour earlier—at 5 p.m.

The autumn schedule will remain in effect through October. From the day after Labor Day until the end of October, visitors already inside the Zoo or Park may stay on the grounds until 6:30 p.m.

Previously, the Zoo and Wild Animal Park entrances closed at 6 p.m. and guests were allowed on the grounds until 7:30 p.m.

Tours of the two animal attractions—via bus at the Zoo and electric train at the Wild Animal Park—will operate until 5 p.m. during the autumn schedule.

The Zoo's Skyfari cable lift also will stay open until 5 p.m. on the new schedule; and the Children's Zoo, which closed at 5:30 p.m., will close at 4:30 p.m.

Both the Zoo and the Wild Animal Park open at 9 a.m. every day of the year.

BankAmerica Declares 33-cent Dividend

The board of directors of BankAmerica Corporation today declared a quarterly dividend of 33 cents per share of common stock, representing an 11.8 per cent increase over the previous quarterly dividend of 29½ cents.

The dividend will be payable August 31 to shareholders of record August 1.

President A. W. Clausen said the new quarterly dividend rate, if maintained for the balance of the year, will increase the corporation's 1973 dividend to $1.25 per share from $1.14 paid in 1972. This, he said, will represent a 9.6 per cent in the annual dividend and will be within the guidelines established by the committee on interest and dividends.

Tax Reimbursement Deadline Nears

More than 243,000 California residents over 62 years of age have already filed 1973 claims for reimbursement of a portion of their 1972-73 property taxes under California's Senior Citizens Property Assistance Law, according to the state controller.

Reimbursements to date total $13 million for an individual average of $205. Under the senior citizens law up to 95 percent of the property taxes can be reimbursed, depending upon the individual's income.

To be eligible for Senior Citizens Property Tax Assistance, claimants must be over 62 years of age, own and occupy their home, have paid property taxes on the home and have an income of less than $10,000.

Qualified individuals may obtain forms from any Senior Citizens Property Tax Assistance office or by writing to Senior Citizens Property Tax Assistance, P. O. Box 1588, Sacramento, CA 95807.

Deadline for filing claims is midnight, October 15.

LG Swimmer Wins Gold Medal at World University Games

David Johnson, 19, who was featured last week at attending the seventh annual World University Games in Moscow, USSR, won a gold medal in the 200 meter backstroke, and one in the 100 meter backstroke. Johnson won one of his golds in an event he holds the third best time in the world in, the 200 meter. Although he didn't swim his best time, he turned in a time of 2:10.5, it was enough to win.

Johnson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Johnson of 7574 Zemco in Lemon Grove.

He is a 1971 graduate of Mt. Miguel High school, and attends the University of New Mexico, who he is representing in the games.

NEW BRIDE—Miss Joyce Elizabeth Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll A. Jackson, of El Cajon, exchanged vows with Robert T. Adolph, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Adolph, of 3883 Carancho st., Lemon Grove, in an evening wedding ceremony Friday at College Avenue Baptist Church.

The bride is a graduate of Helix High School and San Diego State, where she earned a teaching credential and is currently doing graduate work. The bridegroom, also a graduate of Helix, also attends San Diego State and is employed at Copley Computer Service, Inc. He is a member of the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity. After their honeymoon to Catalina, the newlyweds will reside in Fletcher Hills.

Will Rogers Jr. To Kick Off Lecture Series

Southwestern College's Artist/Lecture Series for the fall semester will feature a diversified line-up of entertainers and speakers. The series will lead off with Will Rogers, Jr. September 25 in Mayan Hall.

His topic will be "the Indian rights in America". As a humanitarian, newspaper publisher, U. S. Congressman, film actor and lecturer, Will Rogers, Jr., son of America's favorite home-spun philosopher, has created a legend of his own. He is politically regarded as perhaps the country's most eminent defender of American Indian rights.

Southwestern will present next on the series, the San Diego Ballet, who will appear in Mayan Hall October 18 at 8 p.m. The San Diego Ballet Company has been active since 1961, and has grown to professional status. The company under the direction of Dame Sonia Arova, former Director of the National Opera of Norway, and Thor Sutow.

Dr. Murray Banks, one of the most dynamic speakers in America, appears at Mayan Hall on Wednesday, December 5 at 8 p.m. His topic "anyone who goes to a psychiatrist needs his head examined" is typical of the humor of his lectures. His lecture on "what to do until the psychiatrist comes" is the second most frequently given talk in the world. He is the author of six books and has recorded seven LP records. Dr. Banks has been applauded from Washington, D.C. to Johannesburg, South Africa and has appeared at every English speaking country in the world.

The Artist/Lecture Series is presented as a community service and a small admission fee will be charged. Tickets will be on sale at the theatre box office prior to each event.

Four hundred of the volunteer workers in the Peace Corps are 55 years of age or older.

Off-Road Racing At Race Speedway Is Programmed

Mickey Thompson, holder of more auto speed records than any other racer, is planning a new approach to racing in Southern California.

He will offer a three-hour, head-to-head race combining ten classes of four-wheelers and motorcycles, all racing at the same time over a 7½ mile track.

The first races will be Oct. 5-7 at Riverside International Raceway. Thompson said the new concept would bring all the excitement and hazards of a lengthy off-road race but on a track nearly fully visible to the spectators. Large purses will encourage the racers, he said.

Also planning is proficiency competition for men and women in motor homes, vans, campers and four-wheel drive vehicles.

"Where You Find God's Love thru People Who Care"

WeTIP — Craig Lowry, Bud Fusaro and Louis Poluzzi check guidelines for area Kiwanis clubs' latest project — that of rewarding persons who Turn In Pushers (T.I.P.). Tipsters, who remain forever anonymous, call a toll-free number to set law wheels in motion. Tipster is given a code name and number and even at payoff he maintains anonymity. The project has the approval of the Sheriff's Department and the District Attorney. Howry is president of the Spring Valley Kiwanis club; Fusaro is a Sheriff's detective and Poluzzi is president of the Lemon Grove Kiwanis club.

Kiwanis Clubs, Sheriff's Association In War Against Drug Pushers

San Diego County Kiwanis clubs have joined forces with the San Diego Sheriff's Association in a unique war against crime and drug pushers.

Involved deeply are the Lemon Grove and Spring Valley Kiwanis clubs.

The program, being tried successfully in other parts of the county, is "We TIP", an acronym for We Turn In Pushers.

A reward system and complete anonymity are the two elements helping to make the project successful.

The program acknowledges that youngsters have been educated by their peers against "firing" on pushers. But this is hanging, reported William Clements, manager of the San Diego Sheriff's Association. "Youngsters have seen the preceding generation lost to drugs and they are becoming reluctant to be a part of that scene — but the fear of finking remains, he noted. "That's where we find 'We TIP' useful. Here's how it works.

Anyone with any knowledge of drug peddling is invited to call the toll-free TIPLINE (714) 983-9611 — between noon and 6 p.m. Monday through Friday. The caller is given a two-word name identification and a three-digit number. The caller does not at any time reveal his identity.

Statewide Line, Too There is also a Statewide TIPLINE (800) 472-7785.

The caller is told to watch the newspapers for arrest information although he may call TIPLINE at any time to learn the progress of the investigation. His only identification is the name-number he was originally given.

Rewards, usually from $100 to $500, are paid upon conviction. The informant calls TIPLINE after the conviction and he is told to go to a Post Office convenient to him. When he gets to the Post Office he uses his name-number identification and the Postmaster hands him a package containing the money. No questions asked. No one ever knows who took another life-wrecking drug pusher off the street.

How do the local Kiwanis clubs participate? First, they distribute folders providing information youths in schools and colleges. Club officers may work as counselors to assure youngsters the program works.

Posters to be Hung Next, they encourage local business firms to hang posters in stores noting that the community has taken up the project. When these posters are pulled down, new ones are put up. This has a discouraging effect on pushers.

There is no way to ascertain just how effective the program is since more than half of the informants want no reward — they just want pushers stopped.

Louis Poluzzi, president of the Lemon Grove Kiwanis club said "There is nothing we do that is more important than stopping this menace. Our club has made it one of this year's major projects."

Craig Howry, president of the Spring Valley Kiwanis Club, explained that his club's role in the program is one of financial support. "Spring Valley is one of the strongest supporters of the program" he said.

Not only does the project have the blessing of the Sheriff's Department, but the District Attorney's office has endorsed the program.

$1,330,000 Reclaimed According to statistics, more than 3,725 tips in California alone has resulted in 336 arrests and 65 convictions. $6,300 has been paid out in rewards and drug seizures amounting to more than one and a third million dollars, street value, have been listed.

Both the Kiwanis clubs and the Sheriff's Association are making financial contributions to the program — the former gave $500 and the amount of the latter will be decided upon later.

Those wishing to take part may contact the Sheriff's office, the local Kiwanis club, or contact Max Goodwin or John Nicholson at this newspaper's office. The number is 469-0101. Complete anonymity is guaranteed.

The district governor's visit is a serious day in the club's life. Usually the official reminds the club of its objectives and its purposes for being.

The club meets each Monday noon at the Lemon Grove Bowlero. Bob Guest, local banker, presides.

'Buyer Aware' Series Set at College Grove

"Buyer Aware," is the goal and title of a lecture series sponsored by Grossmont College's Office of Community Services and the San Diego County Library at the College Grove Community Hall, College Grove Shopping Center.

Each program in the series will be presented at 1:30 p.m. on Wednesdays commencing September 12 and will deal with various consumer frauds and how the average person can protect himself against them.

The program on September 12 titled "Crime, Con Games and Consumers," will feature the members of the California Attorney General's Office led by Mrs. June H. Sherwood, director, Crime Prevention Division in the Office of the Attorney General.

Mrs. Sherwood will be backed up by Ken Morales, Crime Prevention Division, field deputy for San Diego and Imperial Counties and Albert N. Shelden, chairman of the Attorney General's consumer protection task force. The three members of the Attorney General's staff will discuss frauds and victimizations including door-to-door, bank examiner and home improvement frauds. A film, "On Guard," will be screened during their presentation.

Mrs. Sherwood, with many years experience in law enforcement, served as chief field deputy and head of the crime prevention unit of the California Attorney General's Office. He is a member of the California Bar and the San Diego Bar Association.

Other programs in the "Buyer Aware" Series will be presented on September 19, October 3, 10 and 17. The public is invited to the afternoon programs that will feature leading authorities in the field of consumer protection. There is no charge for admission.

Auxiliary Awards $1,900 in Scholarships

The Grossmont Hospital Woman's Auxiliary has announced that the group has awarded $1,900 in scholarships for the 1973-74 year for eight young women pursuing health-oriented careers.

Included among those young ladies are two Mount Miguel High School graduates.

Judy Viereck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Viereck, of Lemon Grove, is a 1972 Mt. Miguel graduate and is now attending Grossmont College. She will study to become a dental assistant.

Laura Wilkinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Wilkinson, of Lemon Grove, is also a 1972 Mt. Miguel graduate. She is presently studying at USC Medical Center. She hopes to become an emergency room nurse.

Trinity Youth Groups Plan Fall Affairs

With the fall season near, many youth activities are being planned at Trinity Presbyterian Church.

Trinity "Daytime School" is scheduled to open Sept. 11, at 9:30 a.m. It will be a two or three day-a-week program, with Mrs. Judy Hightower as director. Persons interested should call the church office, 465-3011.

The "Niners," a youth group of the freshman-high school age, will have their first meeting Sept. 13, with Larry Klein as director.

Other youth groups, like the junior and senior highers will continue to meet each Thursday at 5:30 p.m., for supper and Bible study.

Plans are underway by the college-age group, for a retreat at Camp Caroline, near Valley Center, Sept. 14-16.

VISIT — Pat Boone, left, appointed national entertainment chairman for the March of Dimes, joined San Diego chapter chairman Wil Fischer in a recent visit to discuss details for campaign activity. Fischer, who resides in La Mesa, is assistant general manager of Mission Van and Storage.

SV Women to Hear Consumer Affairs Talk

The Spring Valley Woman's Club will meet September 12, a BA in Home Economics and at noon, in the Memory Lane auditorium, 9062 Memory Ln., will speak on "Consumer Affairs." A question and answer At 1 p.m., guest speaker, period will follow.

Lochmoeller Invites Use of BSA Program

An invitation to use the program of the Boy Scouts of America was issued this week to organizations in San Diego County by William C. Lochmoeller, Chairman of the Membership Committee of San Diego County Council, BSA.

Lochmoeller explained that churches and synagogues, fraternal and veteran organizations, service clubs, schools, and other community groups can be chartered by the national youth movement to operate a Cub Scout Pack or Scout Troop.

The San Diego County Council will be conducting a special fall membership roundup to make BSA programs available to more boys in line with a long-range plan to reach one third of available boys by 1976.

There are now over 21,000 boys in Packs and Troops, Lochmoeller said, with over 600 organizations now using the BSA programs in the Council.

Information about the Boy Scouts of America is available from the Scout Service Center, 1207 Upas st., phone 298-6121.

Auxiliary Schedules Annual Fall Luncheon

The Edgemore Hospital Auxiliary will hold its fall luncheon at the Los Novios Chapel September 17 at 11:30 a.m.

In spite of the recent decision of the County Board of Supervisors to phase out portions of Edgemore Geriatric Hospital, the auxiliary sees an increasing need for volunteers interested in working with geriatric patients.

In view of that need, a membership coffee will be held October 3 at 10 a.m. in the hospital's auxiliary room. Interested prospective members may contact membership chairman Mrs. Joseph Guest at 449-3960 for details. Induction of new members will be held October 10 at 9 a.m.

Legal Secretary Class Planned At Helix

Announcement of a new class for training legal secretaries was made recently by Leonard Busch, principal of the Helix Adult School.

The legal secretaries' class will meet each Thursday from 7 to 9:30 p.m. starting September 13 and continuing for ten sessions. Instructor for the class is Mrs. G. Edward Garner, who is both a legal secretary and a certified teacher and has previously taught legal secretaries.

"We are glad to offer this opportunity to both trainees and experienced secretaries who wish to upgrade their skills and knowledge," said Busch. "There seems to be a continuing demand for trained legal secretaries, and the class should be an inexpensive way to qualify oneself for advancement in the field."

Registration fee of $1 may be paid at class time in Room 204 or at the Adult School office.

The Soviet Union covers 8,650,000 square miles.

REGISTRATION — Grace Conlee registers her son, Doug, at Golden Avenue Elementary School in Lemon Grove, as secretary Mary Kennedy offers help with the registration form. New students at all Lemon Grove schools may register

SDG&E Plans Sale of Stock

San Diego Gas & Electric Company announced plans to sell 2 million additional shares of common stock in December and $50 million in mortgage bonds in December or January.

Plans for the sale were disclosed in a presentation by Walter A. Zitlau, company president, and Ralph L. Meyer, vice president-finance, at a meeting of the New York Society of Security Analysts.

Money raised from the stock and bond issues will enable the company to liquidate its short-term loans and to further finance its current construction program.

Reporting on company activities and expansion plans, Zitlau said San Diego Gas & Electric Company serves one of the fastest growing energy markets in the nation.

The potential of this market, he added, is reflected in a high level of personal income, a diversified and vigorous commercial and industrial base and a nearly self-sustaining regional economy, which is one of the strongest in the nation.

PTA Highlights

Mrs. Joseph Luscher, president of the Palm Jr. High PTA announced that the annual orientation program for the seventh grade would take place at Palm Jr. High Friday, from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m.

State Scholarship Competition Opens

The State Scholarship and Loan Commission this week officially announced the opening of competition for State Scholarships for the 1974-75 college year.

Approximately $32,339 will be available for the next academic year. Approximately $32,339 will be available for new winners; the remainder represents renewals of presently enrolled State Scholarship winners.

Arthur Marmaduke, Director of the State Scholarship and Loan Commission, estimates that more than 45,000 high school seniors and college students will enter this eighteenth competition for State Scholarship awards which may be used for tuition and fees at California colleges. The maximum award is $2,200 per year. The amount determined by the student's need for financial assistance is never to exceed tuition and fees.

Application forms, bulletins, and informational materials were this week distributed to the approximately 1,300 secondary schools and colleges throughout the State.

Counselors will assist students in preparing the necessary applications which must be postmarked by midnight, November 20.

Multicultural Studies Department Announced

A Department of Multicultural Studies will be included in Grossmont College's instructional organization for the first time commencing with the fall semester. As a result of extensive planning and discussion during the past two years, the new department was established with Paul Jacques as its first chairman.

Jacques has served during the past year as coordinator of Multicultural Studies charged with developing new courses in multicultural studies and coordinating them with other instructional departments at the college.

Course offerings of the new department will include Chicano, Black and Asian Perspectives of U. S. History, Introduction to the Study of California and North American Indians, Chicano and Mexican Art, Spanish for the Spanish-Speaking and Chicano Literature.

Any student attending Grossmont College may enroll in the new courses. Complete descriptions of the new courses are included in the Grossmont College catalog on sale in the college bookstore.

All new seventh graders are invited to attend. The program will include an assembly and a regular class schedule shortened to five-minute periods.

Pardon us for being party poopers in the midst of all the hoopla over the new, higher interest rates we savings and loans are paying.

We just wanted to make sure you took note of the following before dashing off to re-deposit your savings:

Remember that the interest you lose in penalties for withdrawing funds from an existing account before its maturity could very well minimize whatever you might earn from a new, higher interest account.

Also, since prices and interest rates aren't yet completely stable, you may want to consider discussing your needs with us before selecting a particular type of savings account.

Make sense?

We think so.

This word to the wise was brought to you by that nice, no-nonsense savings and loan from La Jolla. And we're really kind of fun once you get to know us.

Ayala Floors Sinda At Davies' Coliseum

by Max Goodwin

Cesar Sinda, a 137 light-weight scrapper (256, 11 ko's) of the Congo via Los Angeles, had promised sportswriters a knockout in his confrontation with Javier Ayala, (136½ lbs., 33-8, 21 ko's) of Tijuana Friday night in Mickey Davies' new Coliseum. A knock-out there was — but Sinda didn't deliver it. He received it. Ayala delivered a left hook to Sinda's head at 1:02 of the 9th round. Referee Frank Rustich raised Ayala's hand after Sinda regained his feet because Sinda was still glassy-eyed.

Ayala, with his old-fashioned Jack Johnson-type style was far ahead on points when he delivered his head-numbing blow. Sinda couldn't get through to him.

When he tried during the middle rounds, he was rewarded with stiff jolts to the head which included punishing uppercuts. That convinced him to be more cautious. In a 10-round co-main feather-weight Valente Vera (124 lbs., 24-2, 22 ko's) of Tijuana, took a split decision from stringy Johnny Watson (128 lbs., 11-1-2). At one time Watson was dazed by a flurry of wild rights and lefts and it appeared that Vera would take him but he let up and Watson regained his faculties. It appeared a clean win for Vera but a ring judge, Abe Cohen, called it a draw and it went into the records as a split. This writer's card had it 6-1 for Vera.

In a six round semi-main between light-heavyweights Gustavo Perez (166 lbs.) of Los Angeles and Ron Ligon (173½ lbs.), San Diego ended with Perez getting the nod on a split decision. Judges had it 4-0 and 5-0 for Perez. Referee Fred Hayes called it a draw. This writer's card showed 5-0 Perez. Perez was the aggressor in each of the six rounds. In this bout, as in the Vera-Watson fight, the official scorekeeper who saw a draw must have been watching a different fight. In the 5-round wrapup fight between lightweights Rudy Acuna (137 lbs.) of Los Angeles and Roberto Reyes (136 lbs.) of San Ysidro, there could be no misunderstanding about who won what. Acuna took the first round by a wide margin then finished Reyes off in 1:51 of the second.

It was a dandy card with more than 1,400 fans in attendance.

Davies said that there would be three 10-round events at the next show Sept. 14. Joe Valdez fights Ad Zapanto; Valente Vera meets Dommy Cruz, and Renato Garcia goes against Marco Gerardo. Fight time is 8 p.m. The Coliseum is at 15th and E streets. Tickets range from $3 to $7.50. Reservations are available at 232-8362.

Jack Henn Quits Aztec Volleyball

Jack Henn, volleyball coach at San Diego State University since 1967, has resigned his post, Aztec Athletic Director Ken Karr announced.

Henn, a former great player himself, compiled a 48-14 record as Aztec coach since the sport was sanctioned by the NCAA in 1970. Henn's best season was 1973 when he led San Diego State to the 1973 NCAA Volleyball Title.

The Aztecs were 20-5 in 1973, 14-2 in 1972 and 11-4 in 1971. The team finished first in the Pacific Coast Athletic Association Tournament in 1972 and was NCAA runner-up.

He had complained of insufficient financial support for officials and scholarship support for the players.

Under Henn, volleyball games attracted attendance second to Aztec football.

Henn has coached such All-America players as Dan Patterson, Byron Shewman, Bob Clem, Duncan McFarland, Randy Stevenson, Wayne Gracey and Chris Marlowe.

Aztecs Gird For Utah Clash

The countdown to San Diego State University's 1973 football opener with Utah State University on September 22 in Logan, Utah continues this week as the Aztecs break from two-day drills.

Monday was the final day of two-day drills and Aztec head coach Claude Gilbert put his team through drills at 3:30 p.m. daily in Aztec Bowl until the opener with the Aggies.

San Diego State put on the pads for the first time last Friday morning and followed that with a scrimmage at night. Gilbert singled out running back Tim Thorn, tight end Darold Nogle and wide receiver Keith Denson on offense and defense backs Monte Jackson and Rane Olson and linebacker Bobby Henderson on defense.

"I was very pleased with our first week of work," Gilbert said. "Nogle has been one of the hottest guys in camp. He has done just everything right," Gilbert continued. He's catching the ball well and his blocking has improved. On defense, Ernie Zampese is very high on Jackson. Zampese says Jackson could be one of the best DB's we've had here in a long while and Ernie's turned out a few players in that secondary.

"As for the Veer, we're pleased the way everyone is picking it up. This offense will give our backs a chance to run the ball more often, but won't really throttle the passing game. The plan is to peck away and then drop the bomb. I hope it works. We have the runners to make the offense go in Thorn and Dave Darden and Jesse Freitas is an ideal quarterback. Freitas has been throwing the ball better than we've ever seen him throw. He is really drilling the ball on the sideline patterns."

The Aztecs escaped the first scrimmage of the year without any serious injuries. There were the normal bumps and bruises, however.

San Diego State now has 70 players listed on the roster with 28 seniors, 30 juniors, five sophomores and seven freshmen.

POPULAR GULL—Willie O'Ree, (right) veteran Gull right winger, has signed his contract to play with the San Diego Hockey club again this year. O'Ree's specialty, collision-course drives toward his opponents, has made him a favorite with Gullniks. During the off season O'Ree works in Lemon Grove at Art Berry's Lemon Grove Sporting Goods store, 7809 Broadway. In photo with O'Ree is George Hook, of Santee. Those who want to chat with O'Ree will have only a few days in which to do it because he leaves for training camp at Bellingham, Wash. Tuesday.

Vikings To Invade San Diego For Scrap With Unitas, Chargers

The gang that broke the back of the Miami Dolphins winning streak will be in town Saturday to keep the Chargers streak going—a losing streak.

Minnesota's unbeaten Vikings will tackle Johnny Unitas and the San Diego Chargers at 8 p.m. Saturday in the final pre-season game of 1973. Against the powerhouse Minnesota, the Chargers will get a taste of what is waiting for them in the opener against the Redskins at Washington. The Vikings, just as the Redskins, have a defensive potency.

The Chargers beat Minnesota 30-14 in the only NFL game between the two teams at San Diego in 1971. The Vikings have a 2-0 advantage in pre-season play—3-47 at San Diego in 1971 and 24-13 at Minnesota last year.

Testing Unitas and the we've ever played except for Charger offensive line will be Minnesota's famed "Purple People Eater" defensive line of Carl Eller, Gary Larsen, Alan Page and Jim Marshall. The Vikings will start Fran Tarkenton at quarterback with one of the best, if not the best team in football. We're hoping Cid Edwards will be Atlanta) ranked 1-2 among NFC passers. Frantic Fran trails only Unitas and Y. A. Tittle among all-time NFL quarterbacks in yards gained passing with 31,135.

Minnesota's crunching running attack has a new leading man in Rookie Chuck Foreman, a 6-2, 216-pound No. 1 draft choice from Miami. Other Viking backs are Dave Osborn, Oscar Reed, Clint Jones, Bill Brown and Ed Marinaro.

Last week San Diego wasted an outstanding performance by Unitas in getting run down by the Rams before 57,336 at the Coliseum in Los Angeles. Playing his first full game as a Charger, Unitas completed 18 of 31 passes for 286 yards and two touchdowns. He had five passes dropped. The touchdown catches were by Dave Williams for 28 yards and Bob Thomas for 41 yards. Gunter Enz kicked a 13-yard field goal. San Diego was beaten de-

Sports Arena TV, Radio Show Planned

The San Diego Sports Arena is looking for a host for its new "Celebrity Expo" radio and television program.

"A search is being conducted in the San Diego area for a talented radio and television personality," said Jerry Courneya, Arena Program Producer. "The person we are looking for must be a good listener as well as a talker. Our host will be a person with compassion for others and capable of handling controversial topics."

Courneya said the host may be a man or a woman. "It is important that he or she be familiar with San Diego and its people, as well as the sports and entertainment worlds," he added.

The new "Celebrity Expo" program is designed to present a live radio and television program featuring talent from the world of sports and entertainment; past, present, and future... professional and amateur.

Talent from local schools, military installations, civic groups and charitable organizations will also be featured. Tentative target date for the first "Celebrity Expo" broadcast is September 14 on KSON Radio and XETV channel 6.

Two $100,000 Races To Wrap-up Del Mar's Most Successful Meet

Two of Western racing's outstanding events — the invitational $100,000 Del Mar Handicap and the estimated gross $100,000 Del Mar Futurity — will provide an appropriate climax to the most successful season in the seaside track's history when they are renewed Sunday and Wednesday respectively.

The Del Mar Handicap, programmed at the testing distance of a mile and three-eighths on the grass for three-year-olds and up, promises to attract a sterling field for its 34th running.

Peter Blum's Life Cycle, winner of the rich Hollywood Invitational Handicap on the turf at Hollywood Park this summer, will be making his local debut in the Del Mar Handicap. The son of Wolfram, who is trained by Bob Frankel, equalled Hollywood's course record of 2:25 3/5 for a mile and one-half in defeating Wing Out and Cougar II in impressive fashion. Subsequently, he was second to Kentuckian, beaten just a nose, in the American Handicap and then runner-up to Cougar II in the Sunset Handicap.

Classy Field

Among those expected to oppose Life Cycle are Daybreak Farm's hard-hitting Wing Out, second in the Hollywood Invitational; Glen Hill Farm's Right Honorable, fresh from a stunning upset win in the Del Mar Derby; Gumpert and Selesnick's Yvetot, who drilled the race distance in a sensational 2:16 recently, and Quinn Martin's stretch-charging Groshawk, second in the Del Mar Derby and winner of the La Jolla Mile previously.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Elmore, Sr.'s Century's Envoy, the West's foremost contender for juvenile honors, will put his unbeaten record on the line when he heads the field in the Del Mar Futurity on closing day. Century's Envoy, who will be making his first Del Mar start in the 7½-furlong turf sprint, stamped himself as a colt of high quality with his triumph in the Hollywood

Juvenile Championship, which he won by four lengths in a rapid 1:09 flat for six furlongs.

Preceding the Del Mar Handicap on Saturday, Sept. 8 will be the $20,000-added Chula Vista Handicap at a mile and one-eighth on the turf for non-stakes winners.

McIntyre, Hitt Move Up On John Dineen

Pat McIntyre, of Spring Valley, picked up 15 points on leader John Dineen last week in the Cajon Speedway super stock points race.

McIntyre, who has won four main events at the track this season, finished fifth, two places ahead of Dineen, who has one main event win to his credit.

Jim Hitt, another local driver who hails from Lemon Grove, claimed third place and picked up ten points on Dineen. Hitt has won five main events.

Another Lemon Grove driver, Ed Hale, nearly won the main event last week but was the victim of a slow car and a spinout late in the race. He finished sixth.

The point standings show John Dineen in front with McIntyre 90 points behind in second place, and Hitt another 190 points back in third place. McIntyre was the point champion last season. There are five races left this year, so there is plenty of time for either McIntyre or Hitt to move into first place, should Dineen make a mistake.

In last week's action, Ed Hale earned the pole position for the main event and held onto the lead for 18 trips around the track before John Borneman out-gunned him on the straightaway to earn the lead.

The spin cost the local driver five places as Borneman eased up, but second place Tim Biggers, who was counting the laps, flew by Borneman on his "victory lap" before Borneman realized what happened. Biggers took the second checkered flag, but race officials decided to give the decision to Borneman.

Little's Tournament A Long One—To Last Eight Weeks

Golf professionals will be shooting for a record purse in Gene Little's $520,000 Golf Course Inns of America

Tournament to be played over eight consecutive weeks starting October 10 at Whispering Palms and El Camino Country Club in San Diego County.

The announcement was made jointly by Little and Ted Vallas, President of the sponsoring Golf Course Inns of America.

Vallas said at the weekly Sportscasters / Sportswriters meeting that for each of the eight tournament weeks the pros will compete over 54 holes for a $50,000 weekly purse with $8,000 going to the winner.

The $400,000 purse is guaranteed for the full eight weeks, Vallas said.

A full tournament would be 160 plays, with the field alternately playing the 6652-yard Whispering Palms layout in Rancho Santa Fe and the 6769-yard El Camino course located in Oceanside.

As a special and unique incentive, the tournament field will be "cut" after 36 holes with the remaining pros then competing in an 18-hole pro best ball competition that will have a weekly purse of $15,000, with $2400 awarded to the winning team. This tournament will be in effect each week when the overall field exceeds 130 players. Otherwise, there will be no cut made on the original field.

The 54-hole competition will be scheduled on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday of each week with the tournament concluding on November 30. Prize money weekly will be distributed to 84 players.

Vallas anticipates little difficulty filling the field on a first-come first-served basis with admission priority being awarded to those pros who commit for the entire tournament schedule. Entry fee for the eight weeks and the guaranteed $400,000 purse is $4800 per player.

Little, a resident of La Jolla, is executive vice president of Golf Course Inns of America.

"I wish there had been a tournament of this nature available to me when I was starting out," Little, who this year has won $94,255 in official tournament monies, said.

"All the opportunity a young professional needs to develop competitively and at the same time discover, at a minimal cost, how he might rate on the PGA tour are available—strong competition, a new 54-hole tournament each week, challenging courses, friendly and comfortable surroundings and sizeable prize money to be won."

Gulls Get Lafreniere

Roger Lafreniere, a hard hitting, hustling defenseman has been acquired by the San Diego Gulls. His acquisition brings the total number of players going to the Gulls camp to 33, twelve of those defensemen.

An eleven year veteran of professional hockey, the 5-11½, 190 pound Lafreniere played last season with the St. Louis Blues of the NHL and the Denver Spurs of the WHL. In 53 games with the Spurs, Lafreniere tallied 29 points on 9 goals and 20 assists. He totaled 100 minutes in penalties.

"Roger has always impressed me as a hustling player," coach Jack Evans said of his new player. "I have never seen a game when he hasn't given 100%."

TWO TIME WINNER—The Old Miramar Road overcrossing over Interstate 805 was one of two California bridges named winners in the 1973 Prestressed Concrete Institute Award Program. The same bridge also earned top prize in last year's US Department of Transportation Beautification Contest. The other California bridge honored was the Kern River Bridge near Bakersfield.

CHP To Seek Out Cars Without Stickers

California car owners who failed to obtain 1973 registration stickers for their vehicles may be in for an unpleasant surprise.

Director Robert C. Cozens, Department of Motor Vehicles, said that he will request the California Highway Patrol to take advantage of every opportunity to cite drivers of those vehicles whose license plates do not bear bright red tabs that indicate current registration.

Operating an unregistered vehicle is a misdemeanor that normally results in a fine. In addition, once caught, the owner is required to register and pay a 100% penalty for violating the February 2 deadline.

As a last resort, the unregistered vehicle can be impounded.

Cozens stated that each year renewal is complicated by those car owners who have failed to register their vehicle during the previous year. Of ten vehicle purchasers are faced with being held responsible for the fees and penalties for the past year.

"A recent survey of city police departments proves there has been no breakdown on the part of local law enforcement officials. Their traffic officers and meter maids are ticketing everyone that comes to their attention," said Cozens.

"However, we are asking for this special enforcement check by the California Highway Patrol to clean up our records for 1974 renewal processing."

GOP Bigwigs Due For Convention

Leading potential candidates for top California offices will be at the Republican State Convention in San Diego this week.

Chairman Gordon Luce of the Republican State Central Committee said those planning to attend the conclave at the Town & Country Hotel include the four men most prominently mentioned as possible GOP gubernatorial contender: Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke, Attorney General Evelle Younger, Controller Houston Flournoy and former Presidential Counsellor Robert Finch.

Principal speakers will include Former Texas Gov. John Connally, Presidential Counsellor Anne Armstrong, Missouri Gov. Christopher (Kit) Bond, Gov. Ronald Reagan and San Diego Mayor Pete Wilson.

"Our convention is an ideal opportunity for potential candidates to check the pulse of California Republican sentiment," said Luce, who pointed out that every section of the State will be represented at the meeting.

Advance registration indicates an estimated 2,000 persons will attend the convention Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Hazards of Improper Bike Mounting Told

"Bicyclists who transport their two-wheelers on motor vehicles are creating a new generation of safety problems," Captain Leonard DeGroff, Commander of the California Highway Patrol's San Diego area said last week.

Captain DeGroff cited four common hazards caused by improper mounting, obscuring of lights, interference with driver vision, bikes which fall from moving vehicles and excessive projection to the sides.

The driver must have unobstructed vision to the front and sides. Any interference with rear vision requires the installation of side mirrors. "The vision problem is common for compact and foreign car drivers, because the bicycle often interrupts the line of sight," DeGroff said.

'Boys in the Band' Is Bitter-Sweet Fairy Story

by Max Goodwin

"The Boys in the Band" has nothing to do with musicians. It is a funny-sad fairy tale.

It is the story of eight homosexuals taking a rather bitter view of their position in this "imperfect" society.

It is an entrancing bit of story-telling staged every night for the balance of the month at Don Wortman's Tom Hartzog's Off Broadway Theatre at 314 F street.

On opening night — Thursday — the theatre was near full. Possibly influenced by the subject matter of the show, it was the opinion of this reviewer that homosexuals made up most of the audience.

But how do you tell who is and who isn't? Of the eight

"homosexuals" in the cast, plus once who was questionable until the final curtain, it would be impossible to tell four of them from guys you work with.

It led this writer to say to Donald Freeman, the San Diego Union's fine radio-teevee editor who was covering the opening "You and I must be the only 'straight guys' in the house."

Not Offensive Showing
But the play is not offensive. The subject was not treated light and gay (no pun intended). The characters emerge as pitiful souls trying not to hate themselves for whatever force made them into a socio-sexual order apart.

If there is testimony to the unhappy plight of deviates, it is involved in the back-biting, bitchiness that pervades Mart Crowley's characterizations. It was best noted in three instances of the "Boys in the Band" dialog.

Birthday Party
It comes when Harold (Henry Polic), the "guest of honor" at a birthday party given by Michael (Dennis Cole, "Felony Squad" "Bracken's World"). Harold has learned to be philosophical regarding his deviation. He says to Michael, who is fighting to go "straight":

"You are a sad and pathetic man. You're homosexual and you don't want to be. But there is nothing you can do to change it . . . You may very well one day be able to know a heterosexual life if you want it desperately enough — if you pursue it with a fervor with which you annihilate — but you will always be homosexual . . . always . . . until the day you die."

Later, Michael substantiates Harold's analysis when he says to Donald (J. Lister Shaw) " . . . If we . . . if we could just . . . not hate ourselves so much. That's it, you know if we could just learn not to hate ourselves quite so very much."

And finally, Michael says to the group who have gathered for the birthday party, "You show me a happy homosexual and I'll show you a gay corpse."

Good Cast
Others in splendid cast of the "Boys in the Band" are Roger Herren (20th Century Fox's "Myra Breckinridge"); Davis Leisure (Old Globe); Nigel Barber ("Pal Joey" — Off Broadway); Donn Whyte (tv's "Love of Life", "Secret Storm", "Divorce Court" and "Day in Court"); Herbert Hall (King Herrod—"Jesus Christ, Superstar, N.M. State U.) and David Knapp (movies — actor-producer. "Peege", "Terror on the Beach", and "Parrish").

The subject matter appears delicate prior to the first curtain. But as the "boys" verbally rip flesh-from-bone the other unfortunates, the portrayal becomes a cold, cruel, cynical delineation of the people who never quite got their sexual psyches on straight.

But the presentation is show business at its best and is worthy of the effort that went into it.

Series Slated

"Toward the Year 2000," a futurist film series presented by Grossmont College's Office of Community Services, will be screened at 11 a.m. and 8 p.m., September 12 in the Fine Arts Recital Hall. Other programs in this unusual series of films will be screened on September 19, 26 and October 3.

"Toward the Year 2000" will explore the frontiers of human knowledge and accomplishment in science, art and technology. Some of our greatest contemporary thinkers and doers including Margaret Meade, Alvin Toffler, Freeman Dyson, Athalstan Spilhaus, Robert Heilbroner, Harvey Cox, John Cage and Ralph Nader will have their thoughts and visions projected for the viewing audience by techniques that will momentarily lift the viewers to the perceptive level of these outstanding personalities.

The series will be introduced by Gayle Avakian, director of The Film-Makers, VNV Communication Services and author of "Ways of Film-Making for Beginners" and "The Shape of Things". Ms. Avakian is a leader in the design and producer of visual communication learning kits and programs for human development. She specializes in the design of non-print information programs for large group instruction believing that visual communication is a most efficient way of transmitting most types of information.

WATCH THE CLOCK—It's countdown time for the 10 a.m. start of the United Way 76-Mile Parade set for September 22. Ralph Fish, program director for Heartland YMCA, gets an assist from Paula Seeker, a United Way Fair-Share Girl. They are busy coordinating more than 10,000 paraders who are expected to join the gigantic parade which will be staged in 38 two-mile segments hied throughout San Diego County. Each parade segment will start simultaneously at 10 a.m. when hundreds of balloons are released at each location on cue from a radio broadcast. The parade marks the kick-off for the 1973 United Way campaign which benefits 76 agencies

Increase in Truck Accident Rate Eyed By Highway Patrol

Fatal and injury accidents involving trucks traveling at excessive speeds on California freeways climbed 41 percent in the first quarter of 1973 compared to last year, but the increase dropped to 13 percent in the second quarter following Highway Patrol enforcement emphasis on the problem, according to Commissioner Walter Pudinski.

The Commissioner stated that truck speed enforcement on freeways is up in 1973 and that "all California Highway Patrol Area Commanders will maintain the degree of intensified enforcement activity required to keep trucks operating within legal speed limits.

This emphasis, which is now reducing the rate of accident increase, is an example of preventive enforcement resources on identified problems. During the first six months of 1973, for instance, preventive enforcement lowered fatal and injury accidents involving other types of vehicles below the comparable 1972 figure."

Both the Western Conference of Teamsters and the California Trucking Association have volunteered their members.

"However, getting the word to the many drivers and independent owners who do not belong to a union or association will be a more difficult job. It is important that we do so for without their compliance, the abnormal rate could continue," he said.

No one type of truck was basically responsible for the accidents. Research indicated that vehicles ranging from small delivery and service vans with less than 10,000-pound weight limits, to truck and trailer combinations, were involved.

Spring Valley Bulletin

San Diego Premieres Featured During New Season at Old Globe

Five of the ten productions scheduled by the Old Globe Theatre this fall and spring will be seen for the first time in San Diego.

Producing Director Craig Noel has announced the 37th season of plays to be performed at the Old Globe Theatre and the adjacent Carter Centre Stage in Balboa Park.

Five productions will be presented in each of the theatres beginning September 25 and continuing through May 12, 1974.

Each production will be performed five weeks each, with two matinees scheduled during the run of each production. The length of run is the same as in recent past seasons for the Old Globe Theatre. Due to increased awareness and attendance, two additional weeks have been added to the previous season schedule of three weeks at the Carter Centre Stage.

Opening the season at the Old Globe Theatre on October 9 will be the new Jerome Lawrence and Robert E. Lee comedy success "Jabberwock," dealing with the teenage life of Jame Thurber and his appealing non-conformist family. To be directed by Charles Vernon, "Jabberwock" will be a San Diego premiere production at the Old Globe Theatre with performances continuing through November 11.

Tennessee Williams' drama of rare beauty "Summer and Smoke" will be the second Old Globe Theatre production. The powerful emotional conflict of passion and frustration will be directed by Craig Noel with performances November 20 through December 23.

An intriguing new suspense thriller, "Night Watch" will open on January 1 and continue through February 3. Playwright Lucille Fletcher is the author of the classic mystery "Sorry, Wrong Number." The director will be announced at a later date.

The fourth Old Globe Theatre production this season will be the famed musical "Three Penny Opera." With the text by Bertolt Brecht and the music by Kurt Weill, the robust and rowdy musical includes haunting melodies and sardonic humor. This love story of Knaves and thieves will open February 12 and continue through March 17. A director will be selected in the near future.

"Hadrian VII" will be the

'Mouth' Vs. Ken Norton On Monday

Maybe it's good training and for whatever purpose it serves, the two great gladiators will square off on the "Johnny Carson Tonight" show Friday evening.

Surviving that, San Diego's Ken Norton, and World Mouthpiece Muhammad Ali will meet Monday night in Los Angeles to decide in 12 rounds or less if Norton is good or lucky.

In San Diego the presentation will be made at two locations via closed circuit television with both screens showing the gladiators in living color.

The Norton-Ali fight should go on about 7:30 but there will be preliminaries.

The showings will be at Golden Hall in the Community Concourse and at the Sports Arena.

The Norton-Ali get together will resume the hostilities that ended in San Diego's Sports Arena on March 31 when Norton gained a decision after breaking the jaw of out-of-shape Ali.

Jerry Quarry will meet Frank Doyle in a likewise closed circuit affair starting at 6:30 p.m.

Both fighters have a lot at stake. Norton is on his way up. Ali wants to stop his trip down.

Whatever the odds may be on either fighter, it's a cinch that both will be giving 100 per cent or more for the cause he has chosen.

Rum contains 40 to 50 per cent alcohol.

final play next spring on the Old Globe Theatre stage. This extraordinary and celebrated drama of a man who wanted to become the Pope was written by Peter Luke. Co-mingling fantasy and reality, "Hadrian VII" will have its first San Diego production on March 26 and continue through April 28 with a director to be announced.

Currently in rehearsal for a September 25 opening at the Carter Centre Stage is "And Miss Reardon Drinks a Little." The drama by Paul Zindel will have its San Diego premiere under the direction of Craig Noel. Performances will continue through October 28 of the drama dealing with two spinster sister school teachers, each struggling against private tortures.

The first San Diego production of "Ceremonies in Dark Old Men" will open a five week run on November 6 at the Carter Centre Stage. Playwright Lonne Elder III built his new drama poised between comedy and tragedy and filled with honesty, vitality and power. Floyd Gaffney will direct the production to be performed through December 9.

Moliere's comedy classic "Tartuffe" will open on January 15 and continue through February 17 at the Carter Centre Stage. A conniving scoundrel involves himself in romantic intrigue and deception in this zesty and zany farce. A director will be announced later.

The forerunner of all contemporary avant garde theatre, "No Exit" will open on February 26 and continue through March 31. This constantly absorbing modern classic of dramatic literature was written by existentialist philosopher Jean Paul Sartre. No director has been selected for "No Exit."

Concluding the season in the Carter Centre Stage will be Arthur Miller's compassionate drama "The Price." This first San Diego production deals with two brothers who meet after a long estrangement during which each reveals searing human relationships. "The Price" will open April 9 and continue through May 12. A director will be named later.

San Diego Receives Higher Credit Rating

Moody's Investors Service has given the City of San Diego a AA credit rating, an action that can save San Diego taxpayers millions of dollars in interest payments on future bond issues, Mayor Pete Wilson announced.

The action by Moody's, the respected national credit rating service for governmental agencies, also makes the City of San Diego Moody's highest rated government entity in San Diego County.

The action, raising the city's credit rating from A-1 to AA, has the practical effect of reducing the interest rates the city will have to pay on future bond issues approximately 15 to 20 basis points.

For an example of the impact, the Mayor cited Proposition A, the $25 million Park and Recreation Facilities Bond Issue, and Proposition B, the $22.5 million Park Reserve Bond Issue, both of which will be on the September municipal

Donated Sprinkler System Aids Quail Gardens Botanical Park

The drudgery of dragging the Quail Gardens Foundation, Inc., works in close arrangement with the County Department of Parks and Recreation, the Division of Park Development, and the Board of Supervisors in the planning, tours, and publicity of the garden.

World famous Quail Gardens is far from being "just another park." Since it became a part of the San Diego County Park system in 1957, its collection of rare and exotic plants has been expanded and its area extended until it is now a mecca for horticulturalists, garden enthusiasts, botanists, and people who just appreciate beauty.

It attracts travelers from nearby Interstate 5, who stop to spend a moment in the quiet oasis — then stay for hours enmeshed in the beauty of their surroundings.

A non-profit organization of interested groups and persons, the Quail Gardens Foundation, Inc., works in close arrangement with the County Department of Parks and Recreation, the Division of Park Development, and the Board of Supervisors in the planning, tours, and publicity of the garden.

With this park having such a background of intense community and citizen involvement, it seemed only natural for Bill Crane, a New Yorker now living in Solana Beach, to stop by and ask head gardener P. J. Miller if he thought the County would be interested in having a sprinkler system donated for the 31-acre site.

Miller, who has spent the last 12 years hauling hoses around the park, said he immediately thought about tying Crane to a tree until the details were revealed.

Crane, president and owner-founder of Plantation, Inc., a New York corporation, is currently experimenting with an innovative system of irrigation for indoor plants and the flora of arid regions at his Solana Beach field office.

His involvement in the science of irrigation has led him to a close relationship with the top echelons of other professions in the industry. One of these is the Moist O'Matic Division of the Toro Company's general manager, Ed Hunter. In a conversation, Hunter once mentioned that it was corporate policy to provide donated products to qualified non-profit agencies.

That comment was remembered when Crane drove by Quail Gardens and saw Miller lugging the hoses around — and with that as history, Miller and his crew will soon be operating an automated watering system featuring new types of stream rotor sprinklers and automatic regulators.

With Moist O'Matic providing the sprinklers, controllers, and other necessary hardware; Plantation, Inc., donating the pipe and technical labor; and San Diego's Naval Reserve Inshore Undersea Warfare Division 11-3 volunteering to furnish the hand labor necessary to install the system near the many specimen plants of the park, the Board of Supervisors accepted the donations.

Miller said the value of the material and labor being donated is approximately $13,000.

Miller believes that the system will bring added attractiveness to the already renowned beauty of the park and will permit the planting of rain forest flora in one of the sheltered ravines. Already flourishing in the mild coastal climate is a great range of plants from the native chaparral to the surrealistic proteas and the lush bromeliads.

Miller said that although in a recent five-month period visitors from every state in the Union except Idaho and Montana enjoyed the park, he is still disappointed in the numbers of San Diego County residents who tour the gardens.

"Evidently, San Diegians just haven't 'found us,' yet," he said, "although we had visitors from 23 foreign nations last summer."

"While there is no camping or cooking allowed in the park, we have a limited area set aside for lunch breaks. Pets are not allowed here because of the fragile nature of this environment," he said.

"Tour groups, families and individuals will find the time spent here well worthwhile. In fact, we have noticed that once a person comes to see the garden, he usually returns."

Miller's pet project is tours of the gardens for the blind and his thorough knowledge of the plants has enthralled those who have already visited. Quail Botanical Gardens County Park.

The park is open every day from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. without admission charge. It is located just off Interstate 5 near Encinitas.

Gas Price Control Stickers Available

Price control stickers for gasoline pumps are now available at U.S. Post Offices in Southern California, said F. S. Schmidt, District Director of Internal Revenue.

The stickers must be used by gasoline and diesel fuel retailers to comply with Cost of Living Council requirements that they post on each pump the Phase IV ceiling price and minimum octane rating, Mr. Schmidt said.

September 7 is the new deadline established by the Cost of Living Council for station owners and operators to comply with the posting requirements.

Schmidt said gasoline and diesel fuel retailers must obtain one instruction sheet per station and one sticker for each pump. If more than one grade of gas is sold from a pump, a separate sticker must be posted for each grade. Post offices will hand out stickers together with instructions.

Bulk quantities of the stickers will not be distributed to trade associations, Mr. Schmidt said.

'Save Energy' Is Topic At Helix Lecture

"How much does it cost to run an air conditioner per day? In the winter, is it better to turn the heat down at night or keep it at a constant temperature all the time? At what time of day do the most people use the most power?"

These and many more similar questions will be discussed by Mrs. Mary Means September 18, at 7 p.m. at Helix Adult School.

Mrs. Means, who is Consumer Affairs Counselor for San Diego Gas & Electric Company, is the second speaker in the six-session consumer protection series offered to acquaint those attending with ways to make money go farther and give maximum satisfaction. Mrs. Means' topic, "Save Your Energy," will center on the best use and maintenance of appliances of all kinds.

"Mrs. Means is a home economist whose interests go in many directions, and her enthusiasm and knowledge lead her audiences into a wide variety of concerns," declared Mrs. G. Edward Garner, coordinator of the consumer class.

Enrollment is still open for the series at a total cost of $1 which may be paid in Room 204 on the night of the class. Each session is complete in itself, but interested persons are urged to enroll right away in order not to miss any of the worthwhile speakers and activities being presented.

Jim Fredrickson — an adventurous banker

Local Bank Official Heads For Cottage Grove, Oregon

by Max Goodwin

Jim Fredrickson, a Lemon Grove executive, is joining the growing numbers of talented young professionals leaving California.

He has chosen Cottage Grove, a little town near Eugene, Oregon, to be the future home of his growing family.

"I family should live in a small town and learn to live," he says. "A man should have a piece of ground of his own. Not a big piece; just enough for a place to romp with growing kids, and leave enough for a garden and small orchard."

"Yes, land is available in Southern California. But in Oregon an acre of good land is about $500. Here, it is $4,000 or more."

"And I'd like to see it rain once in a while. The kind of rain that makes things grow."

Hunting and Fishing Appeals — "And hunting and fishing. That seems like a pleasant dream. Here, you can't even take a hike without trespassing."

Fredrickson sold his Lemon Grove home at 7512 Tweed st. in preparation for the move. He gave up his job as assistant manager of the Lemon Grove branch of the U. S. National bank. He has no idea of what kind of job he will find in Oregon.

"We (his wife Renie, and their two daughters) talked about it a long time after we visited Oregon five years ago on vacation. Then we decided. We wanted to get there in time for the kids to get registered for school so they moved there and rented a house."

Reunion Scheduled

The Helix High School class of 1963 will hold a reunion October 20 at the Hilton Inn, with cocktails at 6:30 p.m. followed by a luau dinner and poolside dancing.

Those members of the class of '63 who have yet to be contacted should write Helix Alumni Class of '63, 3242 Meadow Lane, Lemon Grove, June.

We'll live there until I get settled in some kind of job. Then we'll buy a few acres and really begin to take advantage of the joys of uncrowded living."

Mrs. Fredrickson rented a two-story, three-bedroom home that has been recently remodeled. It has a wood-burning fireplace, a corral, a barn and is set in 85 fully-fenced acres.

The rent? $200 a month!

Bank History

Fredrickson, 38, has been associated with the U. S. National bank for 12 years. He came to San Diego from Wisconsin in 1958. He bought his Tweed st. home 7 years ago and became assistant manager of the local branch of U. S. National 2½ years ago.

His two youngsters, Jill 5, and Linda, 11, will thrive in the comparative serenity of the great Oregon outdoors, Fredrickson says.

There's not much question about that, if they take after

Bikeways Bill on To State Assembly

A Senate proposal which could provide up to 3.2 million dollars a year for bikeways has passed its first Assembly test. SB 821, authored by Senate President pro Tempore James R. Mills (S-San Diego), and Senator George Zenovich (D-Fresno), was approved by the lower house's transportation committee and sent to the Assembly floor.

The bill would establish the construction of bicycle and pedestrian facilities as a spending priority for transportation monies provided by a fund created by Mills last year.

"This bill will enable local transportation agencies to plan for a balanced transportation system incorporating motor vehicles, rapid transit, bicycles and pedestrians," he said.

The measure passed the Senate with a 23-5 vote in June.

Pop. His clear, blue eyes have the looks of an outdoorsman. But he has the soul of an adventurer and the determination to achieve his purpose.
